Breaking News

1st Annual Teachers' Open House

On September 8, the museum held its first open house for teachers. Educators from public, private, and home schools explored the museum. Many guests have since booked field trips for their classes. Sandy Morgan, from Mountain View Elementary, won the door prize of an Einstein Action Figure.

Another First!

On October 4, the museum welcomed the first school group funded by Nevada Senate Bill 314. Eighty students from Hollingsworth Elementary School received a free bus ride to the museum, and the museum received an admission reimbursement from the state. Needless to say, all parties enjoyed that historic day.

Curtiss Atomic Marines Reunion

October 12 through 16, the 8th Annual Curtiss Atomic Marines Reunion was held in San Diego, California. As a number of the marines are members of the Foundation as well as supporters of the museum's history walk, the organizing committee invited Ellen L. Leigh, Curator of Education, to speak at the event. Other activities included VIP treatment at the Blue Angles Air Show and unlimited stories. For information about next year's reunion in Las Vegas, please e-mail them at CurtissAtomicMarines@msn.com.

A note to all members:

The NTSHF will be publishing the News Nob quarterly starting with Winter 2005. The News Nob Brief publications will be emailed quarterly. They will be delivered electronically between News Nobs.
